Return To Serfdom

SAMUEL B. PETTENGILL
"The Gentleman from Indiana"

In her column, "My Day," Mrs. Roosevelt gives us something to think about. It is this, "it has been a long fight to put the control of our economic system in the hands of the Government, where it can be administered in the interests of the people as a whole."

Compare this with the following: "On October 18, 1936, Hitler appointed Goering to control the whole economic life of the country." (From "How Nazi Germany Has Controlled Business," by L. Hamburger—a book you should read.)

Then turn to "The Philosophy of Fascism" by Mario Palmieri. I quote: "We see thus the Fascist State resolutely enter the economic field to dictate what shall be from now on the relationship between capital and labor, employer and employee, landowner and farmhand, industrialist and worker."

German Nazism and Italian Fascism were "sold" to the people on the promise that they would be good for the people as a whole. The first Nazi order to the Reichstag was "to safeguard the interests of the German people." Hitler was the unselfish "leader." He was to be above party bickering. He was to decide between the clash of opposing interests. He was the friend of the Common Man. Godlike, he was to speak for the whole. Rationing, allocation, priorities, price, profit and wage controls were placed in his hands for the "good of the nation."

The people were to have Strength through Joy, the Beauty of Work, Social Security, the "people's car" (volkswagen), Grand Opera, Gymnasiums, Kultur, Vacation trips to Norway's fjords, Christmas trees, Beer, Plenty, and Peace. All this was promised if he had "control of the economic system." Christmas trees were in fact painstakingly classified in three price brackets, depending on length, spread of branches, etc., to guard the German pocketbook. Ceiling prices to football games were fixed to protect the buyer. "A fool and his money are soon parted" just couldn't happen in Deutschland. There were plenty of fools—dummkoepfe—but the government would save fools from their folly. Only postage stamps, Persian rugs, oil paintings and saddle horses—the playthings of the idle rich—were left to the mercies of free bargaining.

Hitler summed it up, "There is only one right in this community, the right that results from the observance of duties which are assigned to every individual." This sounds like Henry Wallace's "Bill of Duties," does it not? "The allocation of labor"—the "Soldiers of Work" — was described by Der Feuhrer as the "deliberate direction of German labor in accordance with the material needs of the community." This, too, sounds like administering things "in the interests of the people as a whole" in order to insure the more abundant life. And so, compulsory labor service was clamped down for all youth between 19 and 25 to "work in the public interest." (Mrs. Roosevelt has advocated this.) It was called a "serv-

Victory banquet and ball in St. Mark's hall, 7 p. m., sponsored by Knights of Columbus.

THE STATE OF THE UNION

The time of the Primary Elections is an excellent period in which to take stock.

The Congressional elections this year will determine the national policy of the United States for the next two years, and may foreshadow the presidential election of 1948.

What is the State of the Union? What is Uncle Sam's condition as we go into the discussion of issues and policy as part of the political contest?

The Primary Election was held in a period of greater crisis and danger than this nation ever faced before in peacetime. Actually, some of the calamities and catastrophies which may be around the corner are quite as menacing as any of the military emergencies in our history.

Only twice before have we met a crisis even approximating the present one. The first occasion was when the new-born Union almost fell apart under the Articles of Confederation. The Constitution met and overcame the danger. The second was when the Southern States attempted to secede. The problems of the rebellion and the Civil War, as well as those in the following decades, were met through the leadership of the Republican Party.

As to the problems of this day, if they are to be met at all—if we as a nation are not going to drift into a Communistic bankruptcy—the solution can come from no agency other than the Republican Party.

What are the problems and how did they originate?

WORLD PEACE—Most large nations, including the United States, are busier preparing for World War III than trying to protect the freedom, justice and fair play without which peace is impossible. Our foreign policy, under President Truman, has been a combination of appeasement,

The State Police Say . . .

Many car owners find it convenient to leave the registration (owner's) card in their automobile. So do automobile thieves. This is a practice that should be discouraged. Another practice to be discouraged is that of leaving personal papers, identification, etc., in a prominent place in the car. Armed with these important means of identification a car thief might easily pass off your car as belonging to him, or to be able to dispose of tires, radio, or other accessories from your car. If you keep these in your car make sure and keep the car well locked.

A SUMMARY OF THE NEWS

The nation's soft-coal mines came under Government operation at midnight when Interior Secretary Krug, acting under orders of President Truman, seized the properties and placed Vice Admiral Morrell in charge. The operators pledged their co-operation, but John L. Lewis gave no hint of the union's position when the truce expires Saturday.

Some indication of the miners' attitude was found in Pennsylvania. The men, who returned to the pits in scant numbers when the truce was declared, were not enthusiastic about working for the Government and will vote on what to do.

Progress in settling the railroad dispute before that truce runs out tomorrow was reported from Washington, where wage increases some place between $1.28 and $1.44 a day were under discussion.

Other Washington developments included a setback to proponents of a strong draft in the Senate, making doubtful the extension of Selective Service before it finally expires on July 1. A Senate committee rejected 10 to 6 flat removal of all price controls but was inclined to favor gradual reduction as production rose.

UNRRA Director-General LaGuardia, taking issue with former President Hoover on famine relief, urged a permanent world trading corporation to distribute surplus food.

Iran officially announced the evacuation of all Russian troops from the country. The "civil war" in Azerbaijan disappeared and martial law was lifted from the province.

This left the United Nations Security Council somewhat nonplussed over what to do when it meets today. Ambassador Ala transmitted the latest word to the Council last night but did not retract his charges of the day before that Soviet interference continued. The United States and Britain may try to defer action until they hear from their own observers in Iran.

Franco Spain's military activities are defensive, the United States said in a memorandum submitted to the subcommittee investigating that regime's threat to peace. Everything Franco represents was held loathsome to this country, but the memorandum challenged major points raised by Poland in demanding international action. The subcommittee meets today.

VETERAN SENTENCED TO TERM IN PRISON

Judge Issues Warning That Highway Accidents Must Be Cut Down

OTHER COURT CASES

DOYLESTOWN, May 22 — Sentencing Christian L. Vogel, returned veteran of World War No. 2, to serve 23 months in the Bucks County Prisop and pay a fine of $25 and costs, President Judge Hiram H. Keller of the Bucks county courts, issued a warning Monday that highway accidents in this section of the state must be cut down.

The defendant, 25, a resident of Colmar, Montgomery county, pleaded guilty to a charge of involuntary manslaughter, growing out of the death of his girl friend, Miss Marie Bitte, of North Wales, who died in the Elm Terrace Hospital at Lansdale a few hours after Vogel's car was in an accident on the Bethlehem Pike near Line Lexington, on January 5th, this year. Several other persons were injured in the accident and two persons suffered fractured skulls.

Vogel, with an honorable discharge, pleaded guilty through his attorney, Donald B. Smith, of Perkasie.

"The big increase in the number of automobile accidents in Bucks county is alarming," Judge Keller commented. "Our record here in Bucks is one of the worst in the country.

"The court takes into consideration that you are a veteran and we are gratified for the service that you have rendered your country. But as a veteran you must obey the law the same as any other person. In this instance we are going to make an example of you as a warning to others."

Judge Keller, in pronouncing sentence, stated that at the end of six months, an application for parole will be considered if Vogel's prison record is satisfactory.

Trooper Yetter of the Quakertown sub-station of State Police, testified that Vogel's car was in a wreck near a diner at Line Lexington, and that Vogel had told him after the accident that he was returning from the Forest Lodge VFW Home at the time. This was later found to be untrue.

Another witness who was with Vogel, testified that the party had been at "The Rendevous" near Line Lexington earlier in the evening and then had gone to the Lansdale

Rescue Squad Goes "To The Rescue"; Boy Born

Countless calls each week keep members of Bucks County Rescue Squad "on the hop," but the mounting birth-rate interferes with their duties in odd ways at times. Last evening a visit by Sir Stork hindered solicitation for funds.

As a crew was enroute in an ambulance out Beaver street last evening to solicit funds for the squad at Bristol Terrace, the members had attention attracted by a car whose horn was being blown as it sped toward Bristol. Bringing the ambulance to a halt the crew offered its services, and was led to the right front seat where sat a woman ready to give birth to a baby. The child born in the car was a son for Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Mulligan, of 567 Court B, Bristol Terrace II.

The mother and baby were placed in the ambulance, and the crew asked residents of that area to attempt to contact Mrs. Mulligan's physician. When this was impossible, Dr. Romano was summoned, and meeting the ambulance enroute to Harriman Hospital, he took his place beside Mrs. Mulligan while someone drove his machine.

Mother and child are reported as doing well in the hospital today. The Mulligans, realizing that the birth was imminent, had asked two neighbors to take them to the hospital, and it was this car which was the birth-place for the boy.

FIRE INSPECTIONS TO BE RESUMED HERE

Each Business Place and Each Residence Is to Be Visited

WILL BEGIN JUNE 1st

Bristol Consolidated Fire Department on June 1st will resume its fire prevention campaign throughout Bristol. Previous to the war the Department made periodic inspections of business places, and residences, and made a detailed report of the conditions found. The occupants of the buildings were informed of any fire hazards and then later there was a "follow-up" inspection made to see if the conditions complained of had been remedied.

It was found necessary to abandon the inspections during the war because of a lack of man-power.

Fire Chief Clifford Hagerman announced today that the inspections will be resumed beginning June 1st. Inspections will be started in the Mill street business area and then be extended throughout the entire borough.

Following the inspections the occupants will be advised of conditions which should be abated and then within a reasonable time the "follow-up" inspections will be made to see if the recommendations have been complied with.

Nurses' Quick Action Saves Children

Philadelphia — The presence of mind of a pair of nurses at the Shriners Home for Crippled Children today enabled firemen to stop a break in an amonia pipe without so much as disturbing the slumber of some 50 tots. The nurses covered the children with blankets and threw open the windows so accumulated fumes could dissipate.

GOP Organization Wins

Philadelphia—Organization candidates swept aside insurgent opposition in the Republican Primary Election and today continued to pile up overwhelming majorities in Statewide balloting.

State GOP Chairman M. Harvey Taylor hailed the support of the party's regularly-endorsed candidates and declared the apparent victory at the polls heralded defeat for Democratic Statewide candidates in the General Election November 5. The Democratic party's regular ticket was nominated with little difficulty.

Insurgent Republicans Lose In Philadelphia

Philadelphia—Insurgent Republicans tumbled to defeat today following the tabulation of yesterday's Primary balloting in Philadelphia which followed the trend of Statewide voting.

Both Republican and Democratic organization slates were nominated for the General Elections next November by overwhelming pluralities.

However, in the only big local GOP fight (that for the State Senatorial nomination from Philadelphia's Sixth District) the organization was overthrown.

Insurgent John W. Lord, Jr., a Germantown attorney, was nominated over organization candidate J. Myron Honigman by 1035 votes. Lord received 32,326 ballots against Honigman's 31,291.

Governor Edward Matrin polled 254,000 votes from Philadelphia to snare the Republican Senatorial nomination, while the remainder of the organization slate also moved in with thumping margins. The Democratic slate was uncontested for the most part, although the vote was much lighter than the GOP. Sen. Joseph F. Guffey, running for a third term, got the nomination with 62,648 votes.

ONE MAN'S OPINION . .

By Walter Kiernan
(Distributed by International News Service)

Louis and Conn are reported in fine fettle for June 19th. This is one scheduled fight in which everyone hopes there will not be a cooling off period.

Mr. Truman is back with another master's degree but he still is short of a masterly solution for strikes.

The President says he wishes the country would listen to his admonitions to "Work! Work! Work!" He should know the country is listening to louder voices shouting "Fight! Fight! Fight!"

The current fear is that Congress will produce not too late and too little but too late and too much.

The right to strike has been so well established that perhaps all we need now is a little emphasis on the necessity to work.

Since that incident in Detroit where a man was picketed for painting his own house, we draw the shades when we practise on the piano. . . . How do we know Petrillo won't run in a professional to play the scales at scale?

Anyhow the PAC is getting up its lists of legislators who "must go!" Voters will find it very helpful. . . . Friend and foe will know exactly which way to vote.

"TAKE IT EASY!"

The slogan "Take It Easy" has been adopted by the American Automobile Association to reduce highway fatalities and injuries. Moving to make its membership of nearly two million cooperate, the AAA plans to popularize the attachment of a sticker, "Sure, I'll Take It Easy!" to dashboards, windshields or side windows of cars, in addition to engaging in a wide distribution of leaflets and display posters, emphasizing the same safety theme.

H. H. Brunnier, president of the association, said that the appeal "Take It Easy" can "most assuredly be a modifying element in the bad accident situation that is piling up in this first postwar year." He addressed his appeal to pedestrians as well as motorists.

The AAA may have hit on a good psychological keynote for traffic safety in these disturbed times. "Take It Easy," as applied to the traditional tendency to speed still is in point, but it has a wider, more pertinent application to the general attitude of drivers. Most of the population these days is living under pressure of widespread economic unrest and uncertainty, aggravated by the disturbed state of the nation.

The human tendency is to be cagy, over-insistent on personal rights and privileges and reluctant to make concessions to the other fellow for easing the strain of human relations. This attitude makes for impulsive self-assertion in traffic, for pressing a momentary advantage to keep the right of way—and, generally, for keeping the other fellow in his place.

A great deal of emotional energy is dissipated in this manner, with excitability making traffic more irregular and hazardous. In the circumstances, "Take It Easy" seems a timely and practical watchword, for traffic safety control is largely a matter of self-control.

The corollary to "Take It Easy" is "You'll Last Longer."

It is now feared the railroads will not be able to move the 1946 wheat crop. According to some predictions a few weeks ago, a wheelbarrow would have been adequate.

There is a great demand for seeds, many persons having made the discovery that there is an affinity between Mother Earth and the stomach.

Judging by the road construction projects being planned, there will be a tremendous number of bottlenecks on the highways before long.

Shortage of feed may force marketing of lean cattle. The old rule not to sell until the ribs are out of sight may be passing.

Marxism and democracy probably will be able to live side by side in peace as long as democracy has the best weapons.

jealousy, broken promises and incompetence. World peace, after a year of President Truman, is much farther away than ever.

INDUSTRY—Torn by strikes which were fomented by the White House, and which have grown because the Executive Department has lacked the courage to curb them, industry is near a standstill. Scarcities are more acute than ever, the outlook darker day by day.

FINANCIAL ECONOMY—We are in the midst of a spiral of inflation, now far along. The White House talks against inflation, but persists in money practices bound to stimulate it. Total public debt, already past the critical point of equalling the aggregate value of all property, continues to soar. Spending plans are totally unrealistic in their size, and taxes are at a higher level than the earnings of the nation can afford. Interest rates, artificially depressed, cause further stagnation and inflation. We are cultivating a champagne taste on a root-beer income.

POLITICAL ECONOMY—Communists and fellow-travellers in numbers which can only be estimated have penetrated the government itself and all agencies of propaganda and public opinion. Their exact purpose is a close secret, but it obviously involves discarding Constitutional government for a class or individual dictatorship of the "welfare-state" variety.

ESSENTIALS OF LIFE—Not mere national existence, but individual life, is now threatened. We are drifting towards conditions which existed in Russia after the experiment of Communism was begun—in which millions were allowed to starve to "put over" the social and economic changes determined upon by the Communists.

FOOD—There is a world-wide food shortage; millions will starve during coming months. Many millions more will suffer the bad effects of malnutrition for the next generation. There are already serious shortages of staple foods in the United States—sugar, butter, cooking fats, wheat and meats—which may be setting the stage for epidemics and plagues.

CLOTHING—Under present trends, there is much likelihood that there will be inadequate supply of warm clothing for all Americans next winter.

HOUSING—Millions of units short, and houses continue to wear out faster than the "expediter" can get them built. Replacement of housing has slowed up, rather than increased, since the government took over; housing materials are almost wholly off the market.

FUEL—Unless there is a rapid shift, the United States faces its coldest winter in history. Coal production is virtually at a standstill at the season when "stockpiling" for next winter is usually under way. Government interference has made it largely impossible for the public to plan to rely on substitutes if coal is not available.

POWER—Mills cannot run without power, and electric power is largely dependent on a coal supply. This is seriously threatened for an indefinite period.

TRANSPORTATION—This is at the mercy of a union which shows little signs of being "reasonable" in its attitude towards public rights and welfare.

MORALE—Low among the public, lower in the national government. Our Washington executives appear to have no more backbone than a chocolate eclair.

As a nation, our Ship of State continues to bump aimlessly among reefs, any one of which may tear the bottom off her. Incompetents and appeasers are on the bridge.

What the nation needs is a change of management. As an overall proposition, this cannot happen for another two years.

But what can happen, and for the welfare and future of the American people MUST happen, is a blood-transfusion through the election of a Republican majority in the National Congress.

At the very least, this can serve as an anchor to keep the country from drifting into still worse trouble. At the best, it could force a balancing of the national budget, stiffening the enforcement of the labor laws, and smoking out the entrenched Communistic plotters so seriously menacing our form of government.

A Summary of The News

ence, adding that "eastern communism and western democracy were unable, for the time being, to see eye to eye" on most matters. "The more important news," he said, was the disclosure of "a positive, constructive, peace-seeking, bi-partisan foreign policy for the United States."

General McNarney said conditions in Germany were approaching the "acute" stage because of the inability of the occupying powers to agree on economic matters. American constabulary, in a sudden raid to break up smuggling and an underground railway for SS fugitives, seized 372 vessels on the Danube along the Austro-German border.

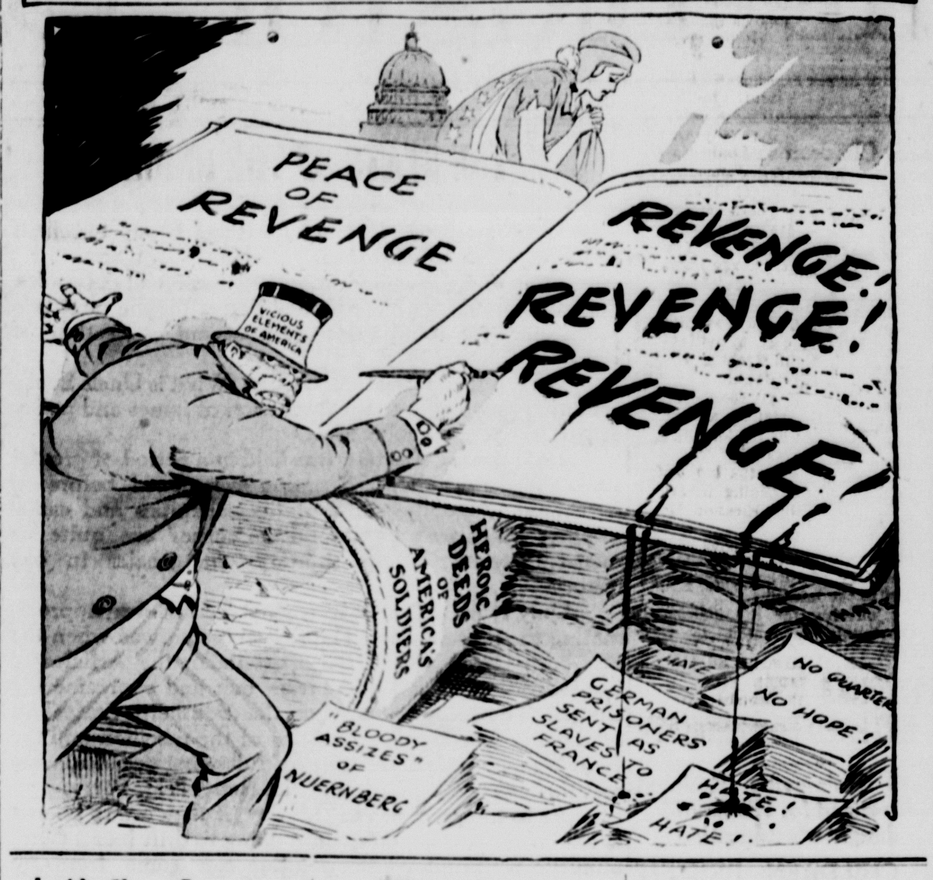

Karl Hermann Frank, who ordered the destruction of Lidice will die on the gallows.

German assets in Switzerland will not be used to finance a new war as the result of an agreement reached in Washington.

Two members of the proposed Yoshida Cabinet in Japan—one a Mitsubishi official, the other director of the Jingoistic Imperial Rule Assistance Association—were removed on orders of General MacArthur, and able substitutes named.

New York City's record budget of $865,212,820 was unanimously approved without change by the City Council.

ice of honor" to the nation. It was soon extended to all between 17 and 70.

But these Nazis were a special class, you may say. So I turn back the page of history to the time of the Roman Emperor Diocletian. In 301 A. D. he said it was necessary for rulers, like "watchful parents of the whole human race," to force the people to participate "in the blessings of peace." So he issued his famous edict fixing prices and wages for all important articles and services. His bureaucrats numbered "half the population." Taxation rose to "unprecedented peaks." Torture was used on wives and children to make them reveal the hidden income of husbands and fathers. Carpenters, masons, etc., could be paid only 46 cents a day, plus keep. There were huge public works and a depreciating currency.

So oppressive did this "watchful parent of the human race" become that artisans abandoned their trades; peasants gave up their farms to become hired hands; whole villages were deserted to escape taxation, and thousands "fled over the border to seek refuge among the barbarians!"

Thus, according to Will Durant in "Caesar and Christ," Rome passed from "freedom to serfdom."

It's still vital to SAVE ELECTRICITY
PLEASE CONTINUE TO CO-OPERATE
UNTIL THE COAL COMES THROUGH!

IT takes time to mine coal. Still more time to ship it. That's why, even though the mines are operating, the coal shortage remains acute.

Most of the electricity we generate is produced by coal. So your continued help is needed . . . save electricity to save coal.

During the past weeks, when the mines were shut down, your co-operation was splendid. But let's keep in mind that the crisis will continue until fresh supplies of coal actually arrive . . . in ample quantity.

Keep on burning fewer lights. Keep dark every room not being used. Use your electric appliances as little as possible. And, if you are a commercial user, turn out displays and signs, cut down window lighting.

Remember—this request is only temporary. Your assistance is asked only to help assure that there will be at all times coal available for the production of electricity to serve the public health and safety!

Veteran Sentenced To Term in Prison

VFW Home and later returned to Line Lexington when the accident happened.

The defendant Vogel, a machinist, testified that he had driven to North Wales on the night of January 5th to meet Miss Bitte and had taken her to "The Rendevous" about 9.15 p. m. He said that they had danced and that he had "a beer or two" with some friends who were celebrating the release of two of their buddies who were returned prisoners-of-war, home from the Philippines. Vogel told the court that he had four beers.

After a stop at "The Rendezvous," Vogel said that he drove to Lansdale where he visited the VFW Home until about two a. m., when they returned to Line Lexington to see if the party at the other place had broken up or whether anyone wanted a ride home. Vogel told the court that he had no drinks whatsoever at the Lansdale VFW home.

As Vogel was returning from his last trip to Line Lexington, he turned into a parking space near a diner, where the accident with another car occurred. He said that he was driving slowly but that he did not see the other car. He said that he was sober at the time and that he felt no drinks.

The defendant had been in the service three years. Upon cross-examination by District Attorney Edward G. Biester, Vogel was asked:

"Do you want us to believe that you had but four drinks of beer that night."

"Yes, that's all," the defendant replied.

"You have a reputation for being a steady drinker, do you not?" the District Attorney asked. There was no answer.

Character witnesses for the defendant included four GI's, two of whom are still in the service, but all of whom knew the defendant personally. They all testified that Vogel's reputation for sobriety was "good."

Court adjourned at noon for a recess and after reconvening, Judge Keller pronounced sentence in Vogel's case.

Frederick F. Cichowski, 24, of near Quakertown, testified before Judge Keller that he "celebrated a reunion with his brother-in-law after getting out of the Army," by taking too many drinks before driving his automobile through Quakertown Borough, when he was arrested by Chief of Police Newton Rapp.

This was Cichowski's first offense and this time he ran into a fireplug. Chief Rapp said that the defendant "was really sick" and that the police actually "pitied him."

Judge Keller commented: "The Court takes into consideration this is your first offense, and the reason why you were celebrating.' 'A fine of $200 and costs was imposed.

John Kuznik, 29, of Perkasie RD, charged with driving while drunk on Route 413 on the night of April 5, was fined $100 and costs and sentenced to serve three months in the Bucks County Prison. This is his second offense. He was fined $100 and costs and sentenced to two months to two years in 1941 by the same court.

Kuznik testified that he had "four beers and three shots of whiskey" and that he pulled over to the side of the highway to take a nap, when he was arrested by Trooper Klipstein, of Quakertown State Police.

"Your first sentence didn't make much impression on you," Judge Keller commented.

Norman Kling, of Doylestown, was before Judge Keller again for violations of parole and on the charge of nuisance. He was adjudged guilty of violation of his last parole period and directed to serve the balance of his sentence which will continue until next September. In addition to that the Court sentenced Kling to an additional year in the Bucks County Prison on the charge of being a nuisance, and warned him "that it all depends on how he behaves himself this time."

Kling, a kitchen helper and cook, has this record, which Parole Officer Horace E. Gwinner handed to the court:

"Sept., 1942, sentenced to three months to one year for drunken driving.

"Nov. 4, 1942, released on parole.

"Sept., 1943, recommitted for violation of parole, but later granted another parole.

"Oct., 1945, one year in Bucks County Prison for driving while drunk.

"Feb., 1946, paroled on agreement that he take a new job in Doylestown, which he did.

"March 5, 1946, arested for being drunk and disorderly in Doylestown."

Kling's last employer informed the court that he would not take him back again. Kling said that he went to Willow Gorve on March 5, to see a movie, and got drunk instead.

Judge Keller yesterday committed Francis Waters, of Bristol, to one year in the Bucks County Prison on a charge of non-support of seven illegitimate children born to Lillian Waters, whom he never married. Judge Keller directed Warden Earl Handy to see to it that Waters worked out his board and keep in prison.

Cash Bonuses Awarded Accident-Free Drivers

Neshaminy Bus Co. awarded its drivers cash bonuses for accident-free driving during 1945. Thomas Walsh, of LaMott, had the distinction of receiving this award for the eighth consecutive year, and John Baldwin, of Bristol Terrace, was the next, with three consecutive years of safe driving. Joseph Gormley, of Elkins Park, had two years without accident, and Norman Volk and Nelson Cowles, Philadelphia, and Paul Betz, of Croydon, each completed their first year.

A representative of Markel Service, insurance carrier for the bus company, presented each driver with a certificate and pin indicating the number of years of accident-free driving.

A special contest is being held for the period from May 11th to December 10th in conjunction with President Truman's highway safety program. The driver who has the best record during this period will be awarded a special prize. LANGHORNE, May 22—The Edgely A. C. team held on to its edge on third place in the Bristol Suburban League by winning over the Langhorne Legion, 9-2, last evening on Playwicky field.

The veteran fire-ball hurler, "Howie" Black tossed them up for the Edgely team and held the homesters to five base hits. He had two runs scored against him in the third on a triple by Douthart and singles by Reed and Miller but in the last five innings only 15 batters faced him.

Edgely tied the score in the sixth on a single and error and counted three more times the following inning on two singles and more loose playing by the Langhorne team. A double by Tom Purcell and singles by Leinheiser, Fahey and F. Pursell accounted for four more Edgely runs in the last frame.

LANGHORNE WINS OVER FALLSINGTON

LANGHORNE, May 22—Langhorne High finished its Lower Bucks County season with a 2-0 victory over Fallsington High yesterday afternoon on Playwicky field.

A single by Sherwood Taylor off "Charlie" Martindell in the second inning represented Fallsington's only hit as "Inky" Schneider took up the mound work in the third and held Fallsington hitless the remainder of the game.

Andy Kish pitched fine ball for the losers in giving the hard-hitting Langhorne team four hits. The two runs scored came in the fifth when "Doc" Righter singled and Schneider tripled. The latter scored on an error by S. Taylor.

Langhorne finished its season in third place with five wins and three defeats. Should Morrisville lose to Bristol, Langhorne will be deadlocked for second position.

From where I sit ... by Joe Marsh

Thad Phipps and the Garden Party

Thad Phipps' wife finally got him to the Ladies' Flower Club Lawn Festival and Garden Party.

At first Thad was mighty uncomfortable in his Sunday best, making polite conversation with the ladies, nibbling on watercress sandwiches. Until Milly Harztell comes up with a tray of ice-cold beer in frosty glasses.

"I suppose," says Milly slyly, "you'll think beer's a sissy drink." "Sissy drink!" says Thad emphatically. "Just because it's mild and moderate doesn't make it sissy! Beer's a man's drink!"

And then Thad sees that half the ladies there are sipping beer, as well as those who've chosen lemonade and cider, and he mutters: "I reckon it's a ladies' drink, too."

From where I sit, more and more people are realizing, like Thad, that beer doesn't belong to any special group or occasion—it's a wholesome American beverage that belongs wherever folks enjoy good taste and moderation.
